

MASTERS PROGRAMS in INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE

MASTER OF INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE (MIA)

- For students with a bachelor's degree in a field other than interior design
- Prepares students to become interior designers who can transform a conceptual design idea through problem solving and graphic communication into a detailed solution that addresses human behavior, aesthetics, building technologies, and the health, safety, and welfare of the public
- Students participate in a comprehensive portfolio review after the completion of Interior Architecture II
- Integration of environmental sustainability in all aspects of the program
- Curriculum structured around studio course sequence that culminates with a graduate capstone project that stresses evidence-based design
- Newly renovated Chatham Eastside features studios, exhibition and critique space, and a state-of-the-art computer classroom
- Small class sizes
- Internship opportunities

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE (MSIA)

- For students with an undergraduate degree in interior design or architecture
- An online program that allows students to explore a specific building type, user group, or design issue in depth and to develop a specialization
- Graduates are prepared for a future in higher education, a doctoral program, or a specialized career in interior design
- Students defend thesis in residence at Chatham University
- Emphasis on design theory
- Supervised teaching opportunities
