INTERNATIONAL GRADUATE STUDENT SUPPLEMENT

For the purposes of this Application Supplement, “international students” are (1) those who are not citizens or permanent residents of the United States or (2) any applicant (including citizens and permanent residents of the U.S.) who received two or more terms of post-secondary education outside of the U.S.

In addition to other required application materials, international graduate applicants to Chatham University should submit the International Graduate Student Application Supplement and all requested documentation by the application deadline. Completion of the above forms and information requested is a mandatory part of the graduate application process.

ACADEMIC RECORDS
If you received any or all of your post-secondary education outside the United States, original or school-verified copies of academic records are required to be submitted to Chatham University in the original language, as well as with an official English translation. Be sure to submit complete academic records, including records of all courses taken, grades/marks received in each course, final exam results, and certificate of graduation. For each course which will be used to fulfill a prerequisite, be sure to include a syllabus and/or course description with your application.

All international applicants are required to submit an evaluation of their university academic transcripts from an approved agency, such as the World Education Services (WES). To access the information and application forms, you may visit the WES website at www.wes.org.

PROOF OF FINANCIAL RESOURCES
International students planning to apply for an F-1 student visa must submit proof of ample, existing financial resources with this Application Supplement. Your application will not be reviewed until all financial forms are received.

Students must submit:
- Proof of existing resources to cover all costs of first year, such as:
  - original bank statement or letter from bank manager showing existing savings to cover first year of academic and living expenses
  - other readily available financial sources
  - letter of government support/award
- Proof of “reasonable expectation” of ability to pay for second year of study, such as:
  - ample savings to cover costs of second year
  - letter of employment from sponsor(s) indicating ample salary and expectation of continued employment

A student relying on the financial support of a sponsor(s) must submit the completed Affidavit of Support (INS Form I-134) from the sponsor(s). This form is available by request through the Chatham University Office of Graduate Admissions or online at www.uscis.gov/immigrationforms.

The applicant is expected to prove financial resources equal to, or in excess of one full year of graduate study, which includes tuition, fees and living costs.

For questions related to proper documentation requested on this Application Supplement or admissions criteria for Graduate International Student Applicants, contact Graduate Admissions at 1-412-365-1825 or 1-800-837-1290, or e-mail to gradadmissions@chatham.edu.

NOTES FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS:
- The above costs do not include transportation to and from home country.
- The above estimated costs are for the academic year 2008-2009. It is anticipated that tuition and fees will increase 3-5% each academic year.
- For the purpose of the I-20 and F-1 visa, a student must show ample financial resources for the combined costs of the entire first year and “reasonable expectation” of resources for the second year.
- Every student is expected to attend full-time for the 12-month academic year. The health science graduate programs are two full years (24 months) in duration.
