Chatham University

July 1, 2019-June 30, 2020

From the President

Dear Chatham Alumni and Friends,

This donor report recognizes everyone who has generously contributed to Chatham between July 1, 2019 and June 30, 2020. Our success is made possible because of you—our donors—and I am deeply grateful for your commitment to sustain the legacy and mission of Chatham, especially as we grapple with the COVID-19 pandemic as a community and as a nation. Every gift is an investment in our distinctive and demanding academic programs and our students—the next generation of world-ready leaders and global citizens.

Organizations show their truest selves when confronted with adversity. This has held true since March 2020, when our entire community adjusted to remote work and virtual learning during this unprecedented public health crisis. I am incredibly proud of the way the Chatham community has risen to the challenges of the global pandemic, prioritizing additional health and safety measures while also maintaining our high academic standards. These collective efforts allow us to learn together as a community—both on campus and virtually, while helping to keep everyone safe and healthy.

This donor report highlights Chatham's spirit of community and resiliency, featuring special alumni who generously created student scholarships. With nearly 100% of Chatham's undergraduates receiving generous financial aid, there is no better investment in Chatham's future than scholarship support. This report also features a recap of our first-ever "Reunion Weekend @ Home," a virtual celebration which took place October 9-10, 2020. With nearly 400 members of our community joining virtually (one of whom even joined from Tokyo, Japan!), the celebration was a great tribute to the global community that makes Chatham so special.

Chatham's growth would not be possible without the continued support of the faculty, alumni, friends, neighbors, foundations, and corporations who believe in Chatham's mission and choose to invest in the University's future. Together, last year you committed more than $9 million in support for all Chatham programs. I am inspired by the generous philanthropy of our alumni and friends. Thank you again—your commitment to Chatham secures our vision for a transformative education and a future of possibility.

Sincerely,

Scholarships Allow Young Artist to Pursue Her Passion for Teaching

Since its founding in 1869, Chatham University has had a legacy of empowering women to build purposeful lives. Sophomore Lauren Copeland was not only drawn to Chatham because of this legacy, but for the University's commitment to transforming students into informed, conscientious global citizens. Lauren's dream is to become an art teacher, so, naturally, she decided to pursue a degree in art education and studio arts. Lauren knew that a Chatham education would help her stand out from other new teachers, because Chatham faculty train their students to help K-12 students critically examine and solve social problems, economic problems, and environmental problems in their community.

"In my sophomore year of high school, my art teacher noticed me helping another student. She said to me, 'Lauren, have you ever thought about being an art teacher? You are good at this!' Lauren immediately researched the profession and knew it was exactly what she wanted to study in college. "I want to make a change in the lives of other people. I acknowledge how much of an impact my teachers have had on me and the path that I chose. I want to be that person for someone else." Lauren has already started to make a difference through her work in the Chatham Honors Program and by teaching art education to young students at her Volunteers of America internship.

A native of Fox Chapel, Pennsylvania, Lauren first fell in love with the inspiring beauty of Chatham's Shadyside Campus. Thanks to the critical financial support she received from scholarships and awards, Lauren is able to call this campus home. "Scholarships are so important. They provide an opportunity to succeed for those who need it most. I needed financial aid to attend Chatham, and many of my classmates and friends were in a very similar situation."

Last academic year, Lauren was a recipient of two distinguished scholarships that recognize academic achievement and leadership: The Heffer Family Scholarship and The Kathryn Roberts Frank '72 Scholarship. Lauren recounts what it was like to meet her scholarship donors—John and Barbara Heffer '68 and the two classmates of Kathryn Roberts Frank who set up a scholarship in her name—Georgena Terry '72 and Barbara Studenmund '72. "It was so great meeting the Heffer Family and my fellow scholarship recipients over Zoom. I see those students around campus now, and we always say 'Hello.' There is a real sense of community there. I also had the pleasure of meeting the scholarship donors and classmates of Kathryn Roberts Frank '72. They inspire me! They showed me just how far my Chatham education can take me."

Scholarships—and the generous donors who fund them—have truly impacted Lauren's educational experience. "I want to say thank you, because I personally feel their impact. Thank you for using your money to do good and create positive change." Lauren, a future educator, is ready to become a force for positive change upon graduation in 2023.

Meet Donors Bonnie Westbrook VanKirk '81 and Tom VanKirk

Upon graduating from Chatham University's Gateway program with a BA in Communications and Philosophy in 1981, Bonnie Westbrook VanKirk became acutely aware of how Chatham enabled her to pursue a successful and satisfying career. She reflects, "Unfortunately, many students who would benefit from higher education are finding it impossible to afford. If college was accessible and affordable to these potential students, they would have a chance to break the cycle of generational poverty, benefiting themselves and their families. Many students leave college with massive debt." Bonnie and her husband, Tom VanKirk, are involved in several non-profits and have seen how financial help can transform lives. For these reasons, they chose to establish scholarship funds both at Chatham and at Tom's alma mater, Bucknell University.

Bonnie, a longstanding member of Chatham's Board of Trustees, first became involved with the Pennsylvania Center for Women & Politics (PCWP), joining their Advisory Board in 2011 and later endowing The Tom and Bonnie VanKirk '81 Pennsylvania Center for Women and Politics Program Fund. The purpose of this Fund is to support the University's mission to educate and empower women through PCWP education, training, and programming—particularly the annual Elsie Hillman Chair in Women and Politics Public Lecture. Witnessing firsthand how appreciative the students are as they learn the political process for future political participation and leadership, Bonnie and Tom decided to also establish The Tom and Bonnie VanKirk '81 Scholarship Endowment to provide recognition and financial assistance to a worthy student attempting to achieve a college degree.

In addition to their two endowed funds, Bonnie and Tom have also generously created an expendable scholarship fund for a student pursuing a degree in immersive media. Bonnie shares, "a scholarship to Chatham's immersive media program would enable students to not only achieve a bachelor's degree, but also jump start their careers in a new and exciting field." The Bachelor of Arts in Immersive Media (IMM) is an interdisciplinary program that equips students with knowledge of virtual reality and augmented reality technology, architecture, 3D modeling, game development engines, writing, and design thinking to prepare them for careers in immersive media creation. Students blend industry-standard design practices and artistic methods with cutting-edge technology to create experiences in gaming, architecture, software, entertainment, and a variety of other industries. Interestingly, the immersive media program was made possible by a $1 million grant from the McElhattan Foundation in 2019—the Chairman of the Foundation is Kent D. McElhattan, Bonnie's fellow Chatham Trustee.

Support from generous donors like Bonnie and Tom VanKirk fortifies the University's ability to provide students with exceptional, innovative academics and access to scholarship opportunities—both of which are hallmarks of a Chatham education. Lifelong friends Betsy McGregor Cooley '66 and Jennifer Potter '66

A Lifelong Friendship Lives On In Scholarship

They met in the cafeteria line on the very first day of school in 1962. Classmates Jennifer Potter and Betsy McGregor Cooley connected immediately as they stood in line with their parents, eagerly awaiting the start of their college experience and their independence. Jennifer, now a Chatham Trustee, describes her friendship with Betsy McGregor Cooley as an “instant” bond—a bond that lasted for over fifty-five years until Betsy’s untimely passing from brain cancer in 2018.

Betsy, an Indiana, Pennsylvania native, excelled in school at a young age, but without the generous financial aid she received, Betsy’s family would not have been able to afford a Chatham education. Betsy thrived academically at Chatham, studying English and focusing her tutorial on Contemporary Literary Criticism. Outside of the classroom, Betsy was a delightful extrovert, serving as “Social Chairman” of Benedum Hall with beloved Head Resident “Mrs. Treasure,” writing for the Minor Bird, and participating in “Social Board,” which coordinated on-campus and off-campus activities with other local universities.

After graduating from Chatham College in 1966, Betsy worked at the Peace Corps’ central office in Washington, DC, where she met her soon-to-be-husband Steve. Two years later, she was teaching English at Thammasat University in Bangkok, Thailand, and after living abroad, she returned home to earn a master’s degree in counseling at the University of Maryland.

After completing her graduate education, Betsy turned her attention to women’s issues and eventually helped launch the Federal Women’s Program for the Civil Service Commission in the early 1970s. The FWP had a primary responsibility to identify barriers to the hiring and advancement of women and to enhance employment opportunities for women in every area of federal service. The FWP is an integral part of the overall Civil Rights/Equal Opportunity Program. Betsy continued her work on women’s issues with Wider Opportunities for Women (WOW), a nonprofit organization based in Washington, DC, that provides the services women need in order to gain access to equal employment opportunities and break down the systemic barriers that keep women from enjoying those opportunities.

Switching gears in 1982—like a true alumna of a liberal arts college—she established a fabric design business, Brushworks, creating tabletop linens for high-end boutiques throughout the United States. Her career didn’t end there. In 2002, Betsy became executive director of the Citizens Association of Georgetown, a non-profit civic organization representing the interests of Georgetown residents. As executive director, Betsy greatly expanded the scope of the organization’s events and initiatives until her retirement in 2016. Upon retirement, Betsy focused on her skilled artistry and exhibited her plein air works at the Yellow Barn Studio and Gallery in Glen Echo, Maryland.

Jennifer recalls countless memories that she shared with Betsy on-campus and off—from Song Contest and plays, fraternity parties and football games, to marching in the Civil Rights, anti-war and womens' movements. They vacationed together for many years in Westport, Massachusetts with their families. Put simply, "Everyone knew Betsy." When Betsy passed in 2018, it was an easy decision for the Class of 1966 to rally together to name a scholarship in her memory: The Betsy McGregor Cooley '66 Memorial Scholarship Fund of the Class of 1962 Scholarship Challenge. Her legacy and contagious smile lives on in the form of this scholarship, providing access and affordable education to future generations of Chatham students—just like the life-changing scholarship dollars that she received nearly sixty years ago.

How the 1962 Scholarship Challenge Fund Works

In honor of their 50th reunion, the Class of 1962 collectively donated $300,000, with the goal of inspiring others to create more endowed scholarships for worthy students that will exist in perpetuity. In 2017, in honor of their 55th Reunion, the Class of 1962 offered their scholarship fund as a match to help inspire other alumni to create their own endowed scholarships, like the Class of 1966. To date, thirteen scholarships have been created, but two matching opportunities remain!

1. A donor (or group of classmates) gives $30,000 for a need-based endowed scholarship, named by the donor(s) and paid over a period of up to five years ($6,000 per year);
2. The Class of 1962 Scholarship Fund provides the additional $20,000 to fully endow the scholarship to the $50,000 level;
3. Each of the 15 scholarships remain a part of the Class of 1962 Scholarship Challenge Fund program. Both the donor(s) and the Class of 1962 receive recognition in perpetuity for this generous gift;
4. Everyone receives updates on their student scholarship recipients each year.

If you would like to learn more about the two remaining 1962 Challenge matching opportunities, please contact Dana DePasquale, director of individual giving, at ddepasquale@chatham.edu or 412-365-1517.

A New Scholarship Honors Beloved Emeritus Professor Dr. Bill Lenz

In 2019, Emeritus Professor of English, Dr. Bill Lenz, generously kickstarted fundraising for a Class of 1962 Challenge Scholarship in his name: The Dr. William Lenz Scholarship Fund of The Class of 1962 Scholarship Challenge. To learn more about his passion for scholarship giving and the lessons he learned from his 35 years of teaching at Chatham University, Dana DePasquale, director of individual giving, had the pleasure of interviewing Dr. Lenz by Zoom.

DD: Dr. Lenz, why is scholarship giving important to you, and why are you willing to provide funds to a scholarship in your name?

DR. L: I think that scholarship giving is very important—one of the things I've learned in all my years at Chatham is that the best students, the smartest students, are not always the most financially-secure students, and one of the great joys of working at Chatham has always been working with students who are capable, talented, and who have the opportunity to come to a supportive community. I would like to be a part of that. I've been fortunate not only to be part of the community myself, but also to have mentored a number of students. You can't just take from an environment.

DD: You mentioned mentoring students; that mentorship existed outside of the classroom, as well, correct? I have often witnessed alumni light up as they share the exciting details of their travel abroad experiences with you. Your travel with students began in the '90s, right?

DR. L: "Dr. Joe Wister and I teamed up for the first CAB in 1992 and the last group I led personally was in 2009. So, that's a long stretch and a lot of students. If you figure the average group is 20, that's like 200 students.

DD: Were there any lessons that you learned from leading these trips abroad?

DR. L: (Chuckles to himself) So, the first thing I learned from travel abroad is...students are unpredictable. Students are in many ways unleadable, but students are incredibly good problem solvers, practical problem solvers, and, as a faculty member, you need to trust the students in their

The Dr. William Lenz Scholarship Fund of The Class of 1962 Scholarship Challenge

To reach our goal of raising $30,000, please consider making a gift or pledge in honor of Dr. Lenz—payable over up to five years. Once $30,000 has been raised, the Class of 1962 provides the additional $20,000 to fully endow the scholarship to the $50,000 level. To learn more, contact Dana DePasquale, director of individual giving, at ddepasquale@chatham.edu or 412-365-1517, or make your gift online at www.givecampus.com/campaigns/17274/donations/new.

learning. I have discovered that they teach me things all the time—not just in the classroom. When you learn this lesson abroad in an environment that is alien, different, and often scary to students, you learn it in a different way. So that, if you come to a river in Belize, where there are supposed to be canoes on your side of the river, and you realize they're on the other side of the river, you're thinking, what the heck am I going to do there? A student said to me, "You know, we're on the swim team. A couple of us could swim across and bring those canoes over." And I say, "Really? Safely?" To which she replied, "Yeah, there's not much current. We're swimmers."

DD: That is what I call problem solving! Now that you're retired, Dr. Lenz, what does "a day in the life of Bill" look like?

DR. L: That's a good question. So I'll tell you, what do I do? I, of course, walk Roxy the pug dog—she, my wife, and I do lots of walks. We do at least two a day, one of which is always through the campus to see what's happening and to see what's new over there. I also participate in Zumba classes and yoga classes via Zoom with Sue [Finegold].

DD: Movement, movement, movement!

DR. L: That's right. As my wife points out, I can't sit still for very long. So, I'm doing more cooking and helping her in the garden. It's her garden, but I'm the master of compost. And, I'm still doing research! My area of current research, as you probably remember, is souvenirs. So, I'm still researching, writing, and presenting.

DD: Speaking of souvenirs, what is the status of your flamingo collection now? I remember when the Office of University Advancement helped you auction off several flamingo items in 2015 to raise funds for the Kathryn Roberts Frank Award, which supported Chatham Scholars.

DR. L: As you probably remember, after my retirement in 2015, I was allowed to bring home a few flamingos. And my wife's rule has always been that I cannot add to it personally. But, if I'm gifted a flamingo, then we can talk about it! That auction was so much fun for me. While I was standing there, a former student from the '80s approached me and said, "You probably don't remember me, but you were my advisor. There was another faculty member who told me, 'I don't think you're going to make it here. I don't think you have the skills.' When I shared this with you, you replied, 'You have lots of skills, you have persistence, you have endurance, you have ability, you just haven't had a lot of good training. And you're in my writing class, and I will help you. Anything you need, you ask.'" That's a very rewarding thought.

DD: Talk about impact 35 years later!

DR. L: I think all of us as Chatham faculty recognize the responsibility that we have to give students what they need. That's support. That's confidence. That's encouragement. And that's an avenue to channel their abilities. That's what Chatham is all about. That's always what it's been about for me.

Dr. Lenz isn't the only retired professor supporting students through scholarship. Dr. Tom Hershberger and a group of alumni have committed nearly $48,000 to create THE THOMAS J. HERSHBERGER SCHOLARSHIP FUND. This means only $2,000 remains to endow this scholarship and support future generations of Chatham students in perpetuity. Help us reach our goal by making a gift or pledge in honor of Dr. Hershberger, by visiting www.givecampus.com/campaigns/7778/donations/new.

During Chatham's 150th Anniversary Weekend, beloved Emeriti Professors Dr. Bill Lenz (English) and Dr. Tom Hershberger (psychology) shared laugh-out-loud memories of thirteen iconic, former and current faculty. Between them, Drs. Lenz and Hershberger taught for over 74 years at Chatham, writing 2,500 letters of recommendation for graduate school, internships, and jobs, and teaching over 5,000 students. "We were asked to do this because we're both retired, and this is a good way of filling up your Sunday morning," said Dr. Lenz. "The lesson is that we'll work for food," said Dr. Hershberger. "We were invited out to lunch, I had a grilled cheese sandwich, and the next thing I know, I had agreed to do this." The opportunities that you create for them at the University ensure that Chatham's reputation for excellence will live on well into the future.

On the following pages, we recognize donors who made gifts between July 1, 2019 and June 30, 2020. Together, these donors committed more than $9 million to Chatham.
